About In-House Training

Bring personalised BVCA training to you and access the industry-leading training suite with our bespoke in-house training programmes tailored to the needs of your talent.

Whether your team are flexi-working from home or have returned to the office full time, enrich their skill set with a tailored training solution, delivered by the BVCA and leading industry experts. From back office and support team courses, such as Introduction to PE/VC – The Essentials, to courses catering to those with industry experience, our training programme offers a variety of courses to meet your needs, whether that is in person or online.

What's included:

- Industry-leading trainer available in person, at your convenience
- Bespoke, premium programmes meeting specific learning criteria
- Enriched learning with case studies based on real-life scenarios relevant to your firm
- In-House courses can be delivered in person or online

The benefits:

- Connect your team to focus on the importance of collaboration and increase awareness of roles within your organisation
- Bespoke training agenda which can be designed to meet individual learning expectations using firm specific case studies and examples to enrich the programme
- A tailored, convenient, and cost-effective alternative to placing delegates on a public course

Why not consult with a trainer today to discuss your training needs, with no commitment to purchase. We would love to hear from you. Contact the BVCA Training Team to arrange a free consultation.

“Organising the event was a smooth and easy process: the BVCA team were quick to suggest and confirm timings and were flexible and accommodating with our special requests. We were able to connect directly with the trainer to discuss our specific requirements and the BVCA were on hand throughout the process with helpful suggestions.
